

JOB ANNOUNCEMENT
Executive Staff Director
Public Service Commission of Utah (“PSC”)
December 7, 2015

The PSC is seeking qualified candidates for the position of Executive Staff Director. This position is located in Salt Lake City, Utah and has a salary range of $67,600 to $101,600, plus benefits, depending on experience and qualifications. Starting salary typically is mid-range, and additional information on benefits is available at <https://dhrm.utah.gov/> (click on “Employment” and then on “Total Compensation and Benefits”).

Appointment and service of the Executive Staff Director is pursuant to Utah Code Ann. § 54-1-6.5. Primary responsibilities include analyzing technical data, advising the Commission, preparing written orders for Commission review, and managing the technical staff. The incumbent maintains professional communication with appropriate stakeholders, manages the preparation of material and orders produced by the PSC technical staff, and assists the PSC Chair as needed with budgeting, human resources, and legislative interactions. An applicant must have excellent verbal and written communication skills and must be capable of independent research and analysis.

Minimum qualifications include an undergraduate or graduate degree in a field such as economics, law, finance, or business, and significant professional experience directly related to public utility regulation. Preferred qualifications include professional experience evaluating expert testimony and work papers in public utility rate cases.

To apply, email a cover letter and resume as a single document in PDF format, with the phrase “ESD Application” in the email subject line, to PSC Chair Thad LeVar at TLEVAR@UTAH.GOV no later than January 18, 2016.
